” Ms Arnold, who agreed to discuss her searches with a reporter, said she was shocked to hear that AOL had saved and published three months’ worth of them.. “Those are my searches,” she said, after a reporter read part of the list to her.. The company successfully fended off the agency’s demand in court, but several other search companies, including AOL, complied.

But the unintended consequences of all that data being compiled, stored and cross-linked are what Marc Rotenberg, the executive director of the Electronic Privacy Information Center, a privacy rights group in Washington, called “a ticking privacy time bomb.. About the Data: Facility Search: Chemical Search: Federal Toxics Release Inventory (TRI) Data.. How could she buy “school supplies for Iraq children”?Delaware Toxics Release Inventory (TRI) Data.

” And search by search, click by click, the identity of AOL user No 4417749 became easier to discern.. Those risks have long pitted privacy advocates against online marketers and other Internet companies seeking to profit from the Internet’s unique ability to track the comings and goings of users, allowing for more focused and therefore more lucrative advertising.. ” Mr Rotenberg pointed to Google’s own joust earlier this year with the Justice Department over a subpoena for some of its search data.. The Justice Department sought the information to help it defend a challenge to a law that is meant to shield children from sexually explicit material. Midiman Drivers For Mac

But the detailed records of searches conducted by Ms Arnold and 657,000 other Americans, copies of which continue to circulate online, underscore how much people unintentionally reveal about themselves when they use search engines — and how risky it can be for companies like AOL, Google and Yahoo to compile such data.. The number was assigned by the company to protect the searcher’s anonymity, but it was not much of a shield.. There are queries for “landscapers in Lilburn, Ga,” several people with the last name Arnold and “homes sold in shadow lake subdivision gwinnett county georgia..” It did not take much investigating to follow that data trail to Thelma Arnold, a 62-year-old widow who lives in Lilburn, Ga.. “My goodness, it’s my whole personal life,” she said “I had no idea somebody was looking over my shoulder.. , frequently researches her friends’ medical ailments and loves her three dogs.. Buried in a list of 20 million Web search queries collected by AOL and recently released on the Internet is user No.. ” In the privacy of her four-bedroom home, Ms Arnold searched for the answers to scores of life’s questions, big and small.. 4417749 conducted hundreds of searches over a three-month period on topics ranging from “numb fingers” to “60 single men” to “dog that urinates on everything. 773a7aa168 Yaaron Dosti Mp3 Download Djmaza
